PATRICK'S BLURB

Spring is finally here and with it comes a renewed sense of hope for those we serve. We now have a full team of Housing Specialists and Case Managers in our new offices at The Wonderlofts. Maybe it's the smell of Pizza upstairs, but we are as motivated as ever to provide high quality and dignified services to the nearly 1000 people we support to keep them from being homeless. For those who are landlords with Save, Inc. residents, we thank you for your patience through a difficult season and hope to continue to hear your positive and constructive feedback.

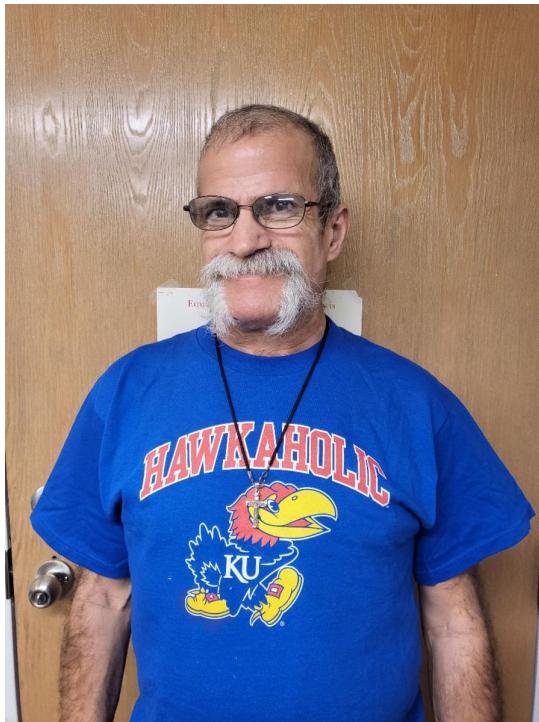

If you've ever wanted to come on site and help with some of our day-to-day operations, I'm excited to share about the launch of a new volunteer effort. Our teams have put their heads together and are eager to welcome you to the work. If you don't have time to volunteer, consider joining us for another new effort, Fourth Friday Coffee with Save. We'll welcome you to The Wonderloft building to share our history and program updates. For those interested, we'll give you a guided tour of our property where people live with dignity and support.

We can't do this work without you and if you run a business, you know that February was a particularly hard month with 3 payroll periods. We researched the non-profit salary guide and affirmed that we are compensating our staff fairly. We'd always like to do more for them as they bring an incredible combination of skills to manage arduous paperwork and at times, difficult tenants. If you find yourself with a little extra, please know that we'd love to be a recipient of your generosity. Together, we will celebrate the shared work of creating a world free of homelessness and discrimination in housing.

IMPACT STORY

One of our program participants, Ron Bennett, described his experiences before and after getting to SAVE, Inc.

Before SAVE, Inc., he had a rocky journey. He was homeless, drinking, using drugs, and at odds with his family. He was tired of being hungry and of never feeling safe.

Here's where we've been.

Today, Ron's life is much improved. He is clean, sober, and working on his mental health. He wants others that are struggling to know that SAVE, Inc. will help you, if you're willing to accept help.

He closed the interview with, "I love SAVE, Inc. with all my heart and always will."
